

ATEA 2023 CONFERENCE – ABSTRACT SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

SYDNEY, Australia, 12-14 July 2023

ACU North Sydney

CONFERENCE THEME:

“Embracing Partnerships: Leading the Future of Teaching, Learning and Research”

The 2023 conference marks the return to face-to-face peer engagement, after a lengthy hiatus.

The theme for the conference is Embracing Partnerships: Leading the Future of Teaching, Learning and Research.

Abstract submissions

We invite abstracts relating to the conference theme and sub-themes of:

- Policy, research and practice around partnerships, including challenges/tensions and successes when ‘embracing partnerships’;
- Exploration of innovative partnership models and case studies, including local, national and international;
- Partnerships into the future: impact, flexibility and sustainability
- Theorisation of partnerships in the field of teacher education
- Re/conceptualisation of teacher educator work that showcases the multiple forms of partnerships that can contribute to teaching, learning, professional practice and research

Abstract submissions open on Monday 14th November 2022 and are due by 10th March 2023.

Key dates

Call for abstracts Open 14 November 2022

Abstract submissions due 10 March 2023

Authors notified 14 April 2023

Submission Policy

In order to provide opportunities for as many people as possible to present their work, authors may not submit more than two abstracts where they are the lead presenter. They may be a co-author on another paper, where the lead presenter is another registered participant.

All presenting authors of accepted abstracts are expected to register and attend the conference and be present at the scheduled sessions.

Abstract submissions for all presentations must be made using the online form. Abstracts are to be between 300 and 500 words in length. The body of your abstract must contain NO author identification. This ensures that each abstract can be reviewed 'blind' by reviewers.

Abstract submissions for symposia must be made as an overall session summary (up to 300 words) PLUS three individual abstract submissions, clearly indicating the title of the symposium in the body of the abstract. Each of the lead presenters in a symposium must be registered for the conference to ensure inclusion in the program.

Presentation Formats

1. Paper presentation (20-minute live presentation + 10 mins Q&A)
2. Symposium paper (3 paper presentations – 90 minutes)
3. Lightning Talks (3 Lightning Talks on a specific theme/issue – 30 minutes)
4. Workshop (60 - 90 minutes)

Individual Papers

Paper presentations provide the opportunity to present and discuss original research in relation to the overall conference theme and subthemes. Paper presentations offer presenters a 30-minute time slot. We suggest you plan to use this time in such a way that the audience can engage with the presentation through discussion. Presenters will need to bring their presentations on a USB. You will NOT be able to present from your own laptop. Each presentation room features standard audio-visual equipment, including projection screen, data projector and a Windows-based computer. Provision will also be made for an online audience.

Abstracts for paper presentations MUST include a description of each of the following:

- The research focus or problem
- The conceptual framework informing the research
- Research methods, including ethics
- Key insights or findings, and implications.

Symposia (3 papers in a related group)

A symposium provides the opportunity for a session focused on a particular theme or topic. Symposia will be 90 minutes and include three papers. You may wish to invite a discussant to contribute to a plenary discussion of the ideas presented in the symposium.

Abstracts for a symposium must include the name of the symposium as well as the name of each individual papers.

Lightning Talks (3 talks in a related group)

Lightning talks provide an opportunity to deliver 3 short and sharp presentations focussing on a specific issue or topic - 30 mins.

Workshop

A workshop provides an opportunity for more hands-on engagement, discussion and interaction on a given topic or issue.

You will be notified by email of abstract acceptance by 14th April 2023. You will need to register and confirm your attendance to ensure inclusion of your submission in the conference program.
